

ABSTRACT

A method of forwarding a network packet is described. The method includes reading a table containing a plurality of flags to determine which of the plurality of flags is set or cleared and performing an operation on the packet to 5 decapsulate or encapsulate the packet in accordance with values of the flags.

20291089.doc